CHAPEL

The Salisbury College Chapel continues to be the spiritual heart and center of our school. Over the past year we have grown together as a school family and we have learned many valuable lessons along the way.

This year the Board of Chapel Committee under the direction of Michael Gage initiated the project of a new multi-faith stained glass window for the chapel doors. These new windows will clearly reflect the values that we place on the diversity of our school community. We look forward to being able to dedicate them with you in the new school year.

We are blessed to have so many people who are committed to the Chapel program. It is a wonderful gift of teaching, music, and art to our students. Thank you to everyone who provides energy and support. We look forward to you as we move into the future.

Headmaster's Message

Mr. F. Matthews

The vitality and spirit of Ashbury is captured in the photos, writing and artwork which fill these pages. The personality of each teacher, student and staff contribute to our 2006-2007 memories. Great schools have wonderful stories, some planned like grade 9 camp, International Day, Theatre Ashbury, the musical and Rouge and some unplanned such as house skits, the football team triple overtime semi-final victory, a great dance or a surprise boarders Chinese New Year dinner. Whether you joined Ashbury as a new student in 2006 or you are graduating, I am sure you will smile and laugh as you recall our shared experiences with a sense of pride.

We are indebted to our yearbook staff and students for creating such a high quality yearbook. Thank you to Adam Scotti, Philip Burger and the yearbook team who were so effectively coached and cajoled by Mrs. Rust, Ms. Wright and Ms. McLaughlin.

This year was especially noteworthy with student leadership from Christine McLellan and our prefects, our Junior School house captains and Adam Scotti and the student council. Students work tirelessly on behalf of other students and on behalf of Ashbury. Equally as important, all our students volunteered or joined in projects to serve the needs of others less fortunate. I want to thank all the students and staff for their commitment, commitment to their learning and teaching and their personal commitment to each other and Ashbury which creates our sense of belonging and community. Two experienced teachers who exemplify commitment and compassion are retiring from Ashbury. Peter Montgomery, Director of the Junior School after 19 years and Leslie Booth, Gr. 4 teacher, retires after 24 years. Mr. Montgomery and Mrs. Booth set a high standard for dedication and they have provided a solid foundation for the success of our junior school students. They will be deeply missed by students and colleagues alike.

Finally, I believe Ashbury is committed to teaching our students to have the five minds for success in 21st century as defined by Howard Gardner.

1. The Disciplined Mind – master one or more disciplines and master a way of thinking
2. The Synthesizing Mind – the mind that surveys a wide range of sources, decides what is important and can assemble the information so it makes sense to others.
3. The Creative Mind – Casting about for new ideas and practices, taking risks and striving to change the practices of their peers.
4. The Respectful Mind – the capacity to form relationships with others through out life especially with those of different cultures in our interconnected world.
5. The Ethical Mind – the ethical individual behaves in accordance with the rights and responsibilities in each situation to do the right and good thing.

As you read this edition of the Ashburian, enjoying memories of some friends you will have for a lifetime, remember what French playwright Jean-Baptiste Moliere said, "we are responsible not only for what we do but for what we don't do".

Assistant Headmasters' Messages

Looking back on Ashbury's recent record of achievement with Mrs. Tordon, our Director of University Admissions, I was struck by the success of our students in being selected to attend the most competitive university programs, and in receiving prestigious academic awards. In the last eight years, we have had students accepted in all eight Ivy League schools, MIT, Oxford, and Cambridge. We have won the two most prestigious university scholarships: Queen's Chancellor's and National Scholarship at University of Toronto. We received the Miller Thomson, Toyota Earth Day, and Canadian Merit Scholarships. For each of these scholarships, less than 15 are awarded across the country. This year alone, our grads have offers to 6 out of 8 Ivies, and with multiple offers to 2 of these, which is very rare. This is a testament to the strength of our academic and co-curricular program and, of course, the students. What do these high-achieving students have in common? They have a high degree of involvement in the arts, in sports, or in community service...and often a combination thereof! This trend corroborates what educational futurologist Gary Marx says in his recent book, Sixteen Trends. He suggests that in order to succeed in this accelerated world of knowledge creation and breakthrough thinking, you should cultivate your ingenuity and your creativity through the arts. He says that music, dance, musical theatre, the visual arts, creative writing, and many other art forms stimulate your thinking. Your future might very well depend on your ability to see and think in new ways, across disciplines. Through the arts, sports, and community service, which challenge your perceptions and help you see the world in new and creative ways, you will stay on the right track. Have a wonderful summer!

Gary Marx, Sixteen Trends: Their Profound Impact on Our Future, Educational Research Service, Alexandria, VA, USA, 2006, p.171.

Mr. M. Mousseau

Mr. P. Ostrom

This year, the Daily Life Team reviewed student leadership. We defined leadership as "taking responsibility and taking the initiative". Students who have an interest and passion can, and do, influence others to positive action. Through their Senior School years, we hope students will find opportunities to grow their leadership skills. Examples this year included a number of Grade 10 students who organized a letter writing campaign for "Cards for Shane". Shane is a young boy with terminal cancer, who dreams of setting a world record for birthday cards received. The students who organized the letter writing campaign were not appointed or elected; they took it upon themselves to take action. Students who aspire to a formal position (prefect, student council, team captain) usually have informal experiences that provide them with the confidence, credibility and respect to qualify them for a position of responsibility. Our leadership program is designed to enable students to see the pathways to take responsibility and take the initiative, as the "Cards for Shane" project illustrates. Leadership is about teaming and collaboration. There are leadership roles in all aspects of a project or initiative: video presentations, poster making, committee work, community service and numerous other activities behind the scenes that demonstrate elements of leadership. Indeed, knowing when to follow and when to lead shows a level of understanding and maturity in how people work together productively. We encourage parents, students and faculty to refer to the Ashbury Student Leadership Handbook to find out how to get involved.

You can't get this at any other school!

There are many things I love about being an Assistant Headmaster of Ashbury College, but what excites me most is the uniqueness of our school experience.

When visitors enter our school, they almost always comment on the friendly nature of our halls. I agree. Having worked in other educational venues, I am continually delighted by the warm climate and welcoming atmosphere of our school.

Moreover, I feel blessed to with such a dynamic blend of students and staff from across the world, all of us drawn here by our location in Canada's capital city and our challenging educational program. Our diverse student body provides a rich and healthy blend of cross-cultural campus life that benefits every member of our learning community.

What I love most about my experience at Ashbury is the high level of student engagement in our co-curricular program. With our rich heritage of provincially recognized athletics, Ashbury students have the opportunity to excel in drama, band, choir and much more. I am proud of our students and their engagement in the Ashbury Experience.

INTERNATIONAL DAY

ENGAGE WITH OUR STUDENTS

School Captain

Christine McLellan

I've tried and tried to be as brief as possible in a number of words what the past year as school captain has meant to myself and others. There are so many people to thank and an incredible feeling of indebtedness to try to articulate. As I sit here listening to some Martin Sexton trying to find instantaneous yearbook fodder to anything remotely inspirational, I realize that it really is all of you who effectively represent this past year.

As prefects throughout the year we became experienced organizers, we navigated the politics of the red blazers, we no longer forsake lunch buying boxes of food, and we were able to give a little something back to the place where it all started.

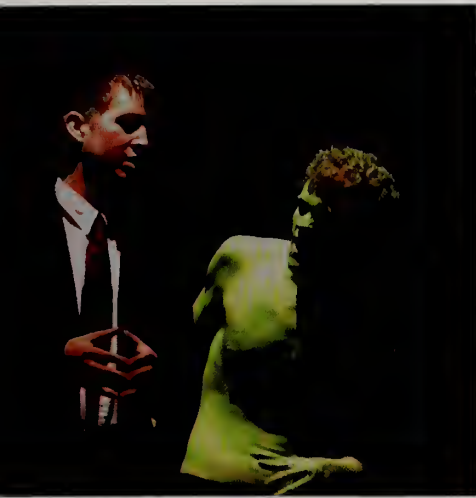

To every single teacher with whom we have had a relationship, you have helped us so much. I would like to take this time to express the immense gratitude I feel for being able to serve as the captain for this most amazing group of people.

Christine McLellan

Student Council President

Adam Scotti

It has been an honor to serve as the main President of the Student Council and a privilege I thank you for giving me. Working with both councils past and present has been a great experience and for that I thank you all who have been a part of the experience.

It is my duty to thank you to Mr. Callahan. For those of you who know him, you know he is the biggest kid in the school who is known for representing your views, and if you don't know him, come to a meeting to see for him anything that is amazing. The school will never be in his debt with his continuous effort placed in making the school a better place and promoting student participation in doing so.

Thank you to the whole Council for your interest in the Council and your fellow students, none of what would be possible without you. More specifically, thank you to Sabrina, Sepina and Harrison for continuously keeping me in line and letting me know when I was wrong. I wish you all the best in the future and know you can achieve whatever it is you set your hearts on.

To my friends and fellow boarders, thank you for the continuous support. I couldn't have been able to get through some days without you, and for that I cannot thank you enough.

Most importantly, thank you to all Ashbury students. The school is what it is because of each and every one of you, without you, it would not be the same. Always remember, at the end of the day, themselves turn out to be what you need it to make the best of it.

Four years passed...a million memories made [CR 06.drama+.CRally(TP). NYC.DC.late night chats. dinners.rut?.spirit] Thanks to all my amazing friends, inspirational teachers and my Maman- you've made it that much better. It's been incredible '07, these years will never be forgotten. I'll miss it all. xoxo
Walt Disney once said, "All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them." May we all find that courage we need for our dreams of the future to come true

"It's no matter if you're born
 To play the king or pawn
 For the line is thinly drawn

 So my fantasy
 Becomes reality
 And I must be what I must be and face tomorrow."

Thanks to all the people who have taught me all that I know – you know who you are.

Merci mille fois...

Katherine Agapitos

Nine years. Half my life spent at Ashbury; but time well spent. Rugby, soccer, band, musicals, Italy, track, too much to tell. Thanks to my family and friends, for helping me get through it all, even if you didn't know you were. I've grown so much since I started here in grade four, and had a great time doing it. I'd be lying if I said I wouldn't miss it. Em, keep swimming, CA and PS, keep singing. Everyone else: Do what you love, and best of luck. Seeya.

The next time I do high school I think I'll trund through in pretty much the same way. Lots of nothing with some stuff mixed right in there, gorgeous, and heterogeneous of course. It would not have been anything close to what it was without my friends, my good friends, my really good friends and my well-wishers, you're all welcome whenever I go.

Cheers all

Fun 7 years. sports: soccer, bball, rugby, tennis, vball, football. Great times at OF-SAA, CAIS, Caymans, Hawaii, UK. Injuries galore: ankles-sprain, break, twist, tape. To the guys ZL, DL, RD – no common sport, lol. ZL-I.love.texas.cow. RD-would you be a doll & pass the whole puncher. DL-bball all the way!

& don't forget about "an interpretation of Newton's 2nd Law..." & 4 stroke engines going "S-S-B-B"

Oh, and Rob, your mom's on the phone.

Through the doubts, tears, sleep deprivation, laughter & silliness, the tumultuous nature of my high school years has led me to conclude one thing about life: it goes on. To Mom, Dad, Jazzy: I did it and I love you for convincing me that I could; I'm glad that I've made you proud. To those that can't imagine how much they've affected me: thank you is as simple as I can put it. "Be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love, work, play, and look up at the stars"

Grade 12 is finally over... I'm going to miss everyone ... then again I'll be surrounded by music nerds next year (YES!!!). Thanks for the fun times with the musical group, jazz band etc... I'm going to miss it all.

After a complete and thorough (not to mention very expensive) high school education, most people expect a very wise and crafty grad write-up from the average Ashburian. Probitas, Virtus, Comitas.

"Mr. Bechtel, what you've just said is one of the most insanely idiotic things I have ever heard. At no point in your rambling, incoherent response were you even close to anything that could be considered a rational thought. Everyone in this room is now dumber for having listened to it. I award you no points, and may God have mercy on your soul."

Thanks to those who had mercy on my soul.

Its been a long road...coming in grade 9, friendless at Otterdale, to this last year, so amazing it could be in a movie. It's been a journey, with many lessons and experiences to come with. Boys, Girls, Coaches, you know who you are, you've made these 4 years incredible. To my role models from the years above, all the chillers that've done it with me, and the ones underneath that made this final year the best ever, I owe everything I am and will become to you.

I can't believe that four years at Ashbury are already over. Sometimes it seemed like those 80 minute periods would never pass, but in the end when you have great friends and great memories it makes it a bit bearable. I'd like to thank my parents and my friends without whom this would never have been possible. "Be ready when opportunity comes... To all the grads, who have shaped these past four years. Thank you for all the nights, trips, and memories. Congratulations class of 2007.

"So before we end and then begin, we'll drink a toast to how it's been. A few more hours to be complete, a few more nights with techno beats. A few more times that I can say, that I've loved these days." Adapted from Billy Joel

Sometimes we don't realize the significant moments of our lives while they're happening. Desiring the things we think will make our lives better- grades, popularity, money- we overlook what truly matters, the simple things, like friendship, family, love. The things we probably already had, but without them I wouldn't be here. The words on this page won't do the job to thank everyone personally, but you know who you all are. Never forget, you can always 'call on me'.

6 years. Football, Rugby, Lacrosse, Hockey. Get out your sword and your shield, hit low, like a bear in the woods, jack em' up, happy feet, kool-aid, 4th quarter, show time. I loved every second of it. All of my friends. GWAMEE. All of my team mates. All of my coaches. All of my teachers. Mom, Dad, Ian, Emily you'll always be my family. Never die easy, die young... I'll see you in another life. Get your licks while you can. "Stay low, keep those feet moving." Friday Night Lights

Two years. It was hard, but worth it. I'd like to thank my family first. Thank you so much for being my rock from thousands of miles away. I love you and am eternally grateful. To the people who really matter at the end of the day: You know who you are. I'll never forget you. You lot are pretty much the reason I go to school everyday. Love you lots. Also, thanks to all the life lessons for making me who I am and will be. Now, on to bigger and much better things. Ciao.

To my parents and family for always supporting me, and giving me every opportunity to succeed, I owe everything I am to them. To the all the lads who have seen this time called Ashbury through since gr. 7, to all the ladies for making us act slightly more mature to impress you. To the teachers who gave me good marks. My girl for making my last year its best, thank you. For all of the nights and bright mornings, great times.

How beautiful is it to do nothing and then rest afterwards? This Spanish proverb pretty much defines my Ashbury career.

Ma, Pa, Pata, Abu, gracias por vuestro apoyo en estos 3 años. Polis for allways being there. why don't we open a club Polis. Toufic, Teddy the circle of trust u 3 are my brothers. AV gangstas, Starfish, Boom. Soccer... how could I forget, u guys are the best. BRAD! Mr P thanks. Thanks to all that have been there for me, u know who u are. To all thanks, BJ.

9 years. Half of my life. A ton of good times and countless memories. Some great people along the way, thanks to all of you. Thanks to my parents and sister for helping me through. A special thanks to TB and JM, together from day one. Time to say goodbye to this place, but in the immortal words of Dr. Seuss, "Don't cry because it's over. Smile because it happened."

If my time at Ashbury were a pirate costume:

- My parents would be my hook.
- My brother Dumaresq would be the parrot on my shoulder.

- Mr. Simpson would be the cutlass I use to fight dragons.
- Mr. Taylor would be the spyglass.
- Costa Rica would be the cravat.

- Rebecca Glover would be the peg leg.
- Rachel Green would be the other leg, which is good except for its hip.

All the wonderful people I didn't mention would be the ones making me walk the plank.

Remembering that night Rouge... Ashbury has been the greatest time of my life so many good memories and lasting friendships. Many thanks go out to all the teachers and especially Mrs. Dugan and Rust, who spent long hours helping me with this seemingly endless wealth of knowledge. Mr. Gueule and Pelletier introduced me to new worlds to me. Thanks to my crew for supporting me in good times and bad. I will never forget our hilarious nights at china town! Peas out ^.^

6 years of my life well spent...I am definitely going to be a charitable alumnus. thank you teachers for making me realize that history is fun: Mr. King, Mr. Moore. handshakes to my Real boys: you kept it fresh. kisses to my favorite girls: you made my days (nights) worthwhile. big hug to OE: its been cool. most of all, Much Love to my parents. mom- I am your one and only, dad- you have the bragging rights. goodbye all, I'm on my way up..

At my old school, the grad write up was 200 words. Anyway, it's been less than half a year so far and so there's not much else to say. So, despite the curriculum differences (and even more annoying similarities), the long and tiring ride home, and the lack of competition in squash (probably because everyone with any athletic ability chooses some other sport), it's been mostly okay...mostly.

The past 2 years here have been lled with quite a few happy moments, countless tears and millions of memories that will hopefully last a lifetime. I couldn't have gone through any of it without my Jana, Shanya, Anam, Samantha, Sibylla, Cristen, Paige, Rudo, Hilary, Sarah, Ayaka and Tessa. Also Belz, Ahmz and Wezi, despite the thousands of miles between us you were always partially there for me. Hopefully I will be seeing you all sometime soon. Until then, take care and keep in touch. xxx

High school's over! I'll have to take care of myself next year, which I personally think is a terrible plan, but I'm not making the rules. To those who I got to know and love, let's hope we meet again. As we shed our blazers and become human beings we must remember that life is so much more than what we accomplish. "Dignity consists not in possessing honours, but in the consciousness that we deserve them."

All my life I've had this feeling that there's something sinister going on in the world, but then again I'm just paranoid. Can't believe it's been four years (by time you read this.) They certainly were eventful times.

Like a paper airplane flight, my time here was fleeting, fanciful, at times frightening, but always fantastic. Thanks to "The Table" for all those moments, and much laughter.

To those I love, thanks for sharing the moments. A broken heart only made me stronger. AB ED AC NH KL ACV&ZB you've helped me stand tall. MH thanks for taking the long road with me. M+D thanks for taking me to places I never dreamt of. Wow, I am finally in high school! So many things happened over these past two years, both as a Boarder and a Student... having the best of both worlds. I can't believe I made it through! Physics was awesome! JB thanks for all the classes, I learned so much. To my friends PB and let's keep in touch. To my parent's thank-you for your help and support, I could not have done it without you.

We started out with pink card lines, Vendo Land, gold blazer buttons and a handy staircase to the French rooms, there have been changes but some things have stayed the same. I still have the friends I met on the welcome BBQ, I still love swing dancing and I still haven't finished A Tale of Two Cities. Thanks to my parents who made it all happen, thanks to the teachers who kept it all going and thanks to my friends who made it all worth while.

First of all I'd like to thank my family and friends for always being there. Some of the best times were had in the past 4 years and the memories made are endless. Good luck to everyone next year and all I can say is high school is dunzo!!

What can I say, four years at Ashbury - Done. Football boys, great run, fell short, it was all worth it. Coach Smith, for everything you've done for me as a coach and a person, thank you. Mom and Dad, thanks for putting up with me through the rough times and smooth sailing. MC-May 19- Perfection. Good luck to returning friends and Alexandra, continue to bring fame to the name.

I enjoyed the 2 yrs I attended Ashbury. Boarding life was an experience I will never forget, it was a stepping stone for me. The people, experiences, adventures and everything in between made a positive difference in my life. Thanks to my close friends & family who encouraged & supported me! The teachers, Dons, and peers of Ashbury were of great help as well. Hopefully other citizens of the Cayman Islands will attend Ashbury in the future.

Congrats to the Class of 2007!

Time and fate are only what we make of them. Four years that seemed so long flash before us, becoming a fading image in the rear view mirror. Family - love and thanks. To my friends old, new and far away, you have made me into what I am now, and for that I am grateful. Short days, long nights, hard terms and crucial years all roll into one experience that can only be defined as high school. These are memories that will last a lifetime.

4 years and I can't believe it's over. High school just never seems to die. Just like Boromir. Or Cher. But thanks to mom, dad and Muni for putting up with my teen angst and Maria, cause I miss blaming you for everything. Thanks to all my friends, you know who are. It's been good, you know?

I have so many good memories about my time at Ashbury that it is impossible to list them all. I'll miss all the people I met here, all my friends and the overcrowded lunch table. But I'm positive that we can see each other again and that this is not our last goodbye. I'm excited that I'm graduating and moving on, but I'll never forget the great times I've had. Good luck to all the 07 grads

Thanks to: parents for strength, with tough decisions. Sister who balances me out. Mother who always cares. The friend who listens to me. Girls for making it memorable, boys for making it enjoyable. Teachers for giving me confidence, coaches for getting me out of my shell. This is the time to remember and it will not last forever. Good times, bad times, first times, chaos, laughter, and a ton of memories. It's been one great journey. Thanks to everyone who have made these past 4 years a time to remember. Well, I made it through without burning anything; always a plus. Its been an interesting four years, started off as a short introvert, ended as a tall extrovert, figure that one out. I'll be done university at 20 by the way, thought I'd point that out. I have to thank everyone that made these years that much better: Coach, DL, MA, ZL, RD. Big Dave is heading on to bigger, better, and taller things... I'll be able to dunk eventually Leenen, just you wait...

Well it was fun, these four years took a while but now that I'm near the end it seems like they flew by. Grade 9 seems like a distant memory, of times when I didn't have essays to write over Christmas Break. IB was tough, but hopefully it was all worth it, first year better be a breeze. Thanks to everyone I met, the friends I've made, I'll probably see some of you in University. Big thanks to my parents who financed my stay at Ashbury, couldn't have survived without them. University here I come!

It has been a fantastic six years. I have never felt so included and made so many friends in my life than at Ashbury College. Getting involved in exciting activities whether they are at lunch or after the exuberant school experience is always incredible. Rugby team, world affairs, Friday night skiing and my brief experience on the junior soccer team have all been extraordinary. I owe it all to my fabulous teachers who have guided me through times good and bad.... Or something along those lines.

Mr. Tanod and Mr. Gueule thank you for teaching music. I have come to enjoy a greater variety of music as you have taught me over the years. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Allen, thank you for teaching me mathematics. Mr. Snodgrass and Mrs. Gueule, thank you for making my boarding experience incredible. Mr. Coles, thank you for all you have done for me and finally, thank you to all my dear friends. It would be great if we could meet again at Ashbury in the future. Music will be the food of life to play on." (Twelfth Night, Shakespeare)

The past 6 years seem to have passed too fast with too many memories - kickin it with the boys/partying&cottage fun to name a few. From the soccer pitch to the slopes/the chronic procrastination and the spares, the College has taught me many important lessons. To all that helped me get to where I am today: family, teachers, friends and everyone else whose path I've crossed. I thank you for your support. RL & TA keep up the good work....keep it real it's the next episode...

Fun times at ash - I've had many, from Zoe the first person I meet, to the last time I put on my Ashbury tie, last assembly & last kinesiology class. Shout out to the football team and especially the o-line, to the ski team, and to rec.golf. I'll remember the events of the car rally's and Team Penton, walking down Ashbury rd with Ray, to the weekends in Syracuse, and the Asians that left, and to my family. God speed

JUNIOR BOYS' FOOTBALL

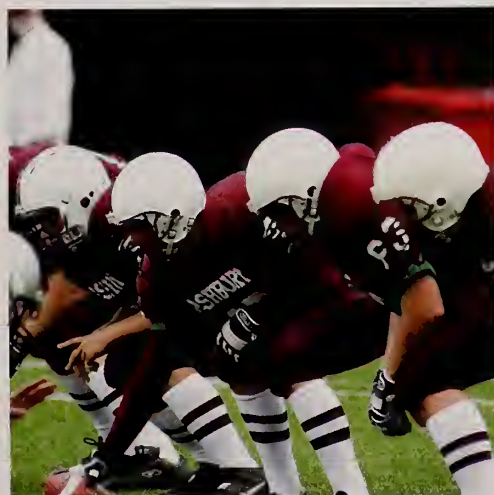

The 2000 Ashbury Junior Boys' Football team learned much about the game of football and how to win and lose. A competitive season was ahead of them. The team's best effort came in their last game, against an undefeated team, St. Mark. They managed to score 10 points, making Ashbury the only team to score points on St. Mark. Throughout the entire regular season, the team was undefeated and was awarded a trophy for their achievement. The individual players and the team as a whole were proud and determined. We would like to thank the entire coaching staff for their hard work and dedication, as well as the fans for supporting the players.

JUNIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

With only two returning players from the previous season, the 2004 Junior Girls' team was comprised of a very young group of players. Despite their youth and inexperience as a team, they had a great season. The team participated in the St. Cecilia A Day 2 league and in four Tier 1 tournaments. They even got to become players and coaches in the playoffs. A highlight of the year was defeating a friend St. Cecilia team twice. The players would be commended for their commitment, hard work, and dedication to be successful in every game they played. Ashbury's Katherine Belley and Stephanie Sardelis are the team's MVPs. It will be missed as they move on to the next level next year.

Pulling together

This year's fall rowing program welcomed many newcomers to the sport. Thanks to the dedication and commitment of our few experienced members, the team quickly pulled together. The energy and enthusiasm built throughout the season as we improved and we ended with a pair of very successful finishes in our annual Bridges to Bridge Regatta with Calbe.

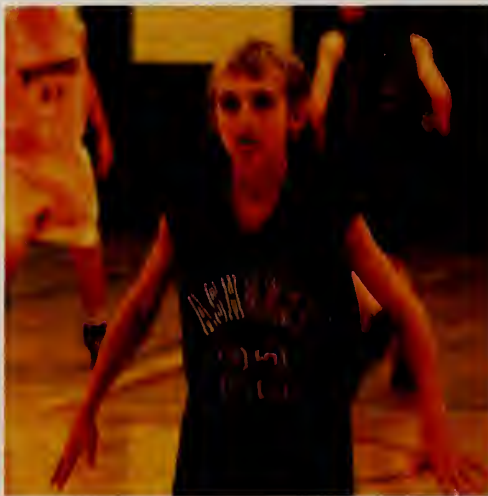

JUNIOR BOYS' BASKETBALL

The Junior Boys' Basketball team showed great improvement over the season. Led by team captains Matt Bock and Kai Cheng the team competed in the 1001 Junior League and ended the season one spot out of the playoffs. With a strong group of go-to players, the team will undoubtedly overcome their development next year and look forward to future success in the future. A special thanks to Coach Gray for all his help and support this year.

SENIOR BOYS' BASKETBALL

The Senior Boys basketball team had a very successful season, culminating in a victory and back-to-back championship. With 17 players, the team was led by Coach MacKinnon, who had a long history with the team. The team's success was due to a combination of factors, including a strong defense, a solid offense, and a team that was willing to sacrifice and play hard. The team's success was a testament to the hard work and dedication of the players and the coaching staff. The team's success was also a result of the support of the fans and the community. The team's success was a source of pride for the school and the community. The team's success was a testament to the power of teamwork and the importance of hard work and dedication.

This year's Ashbury Varsity Hockey Team was characterized by one word: youth. With only three senior players, we took victory from most teams. But that didn't stop us. What we lacked in experience, we made up for through hard work and dedication. We ended the season at 1-2, narrowly missing the playoffs. Similarly, UCC finished with an excellent and hard-fought loss putting us out of contention for advancement. Regardless of how our season went, one thing is for sure: we came a long way from the beginning and had a good time along the way. The graduating players, Jorge, Daniel, Steve, Dan and Matt "Rocket" Cameron couldn't have asked for a better team. Most of all, we couldn't have asked for better coaches. The thanks to Coaches Moore, Edholm, Pateroparas and Garsany is ours.

HOCKEY

NORDIC SKIING

The season was late in December this year, and we started the season with training, strength training, and some hill bounding in nearby parks. The goal of some skiers was to get outside and exercise regularly. Others chose Nordic Skating in place. With the arrival of snow, we worked on technique and conditioning on Fridays we did interval training by playing capture the flag. We competed in two relay races, and two skiers qualified to go to the U.S. in North Bay this year. Alex Campbell, Adam Cuthbert, Jeremy Scheyen, Tim Ineson, and John Kowalsky made up our competitive team. The U.S.S.'s qualifiers were Tim Ineson, earning his spot with a 7th place finish in the relay, Bryce Johnson at the Ottawa High School races, and John Kowalsky, who moved to a very competitive level in Junior Bays. John Ineson and Tim represented Ashbury well in North Bay, and John Kowalsky took home 11th with a 4th place in the Junior Boys division.

At the end of the year, we had a great time. It's a big day, a good day, a day that goes by too fast. We had a great time.

ALPINE SKIING

The alpine skiing team has been successful in the past few years. At the 2002 Winter Olympics, the team won a total of 10 medals. The team has also won several national and international titles. The team is currently coached by Mrs. Matthews and Mr. Beltran. The team is made up of students from all over the world. The team is very competitive and works hard to win every race. The team is also very friendly and enjoys spending time together. The team is a great example of hard work and dedication.

SENIOR BOYS' RUGBY

The Senior Boys' rugby team had a phenomenal season. They began with five wins in a row, including a victory over the top-ranked team in the state. The team's success was due to their hard work and dedication. They played in several tournaments, including the National Championship, where they finished as runners-up. The team's captain, [Name], was named the Most Valuable Player. The team's coach, [Name], was also named the National Coach of the Year. The team's success was a testament to their hard work and dedication.

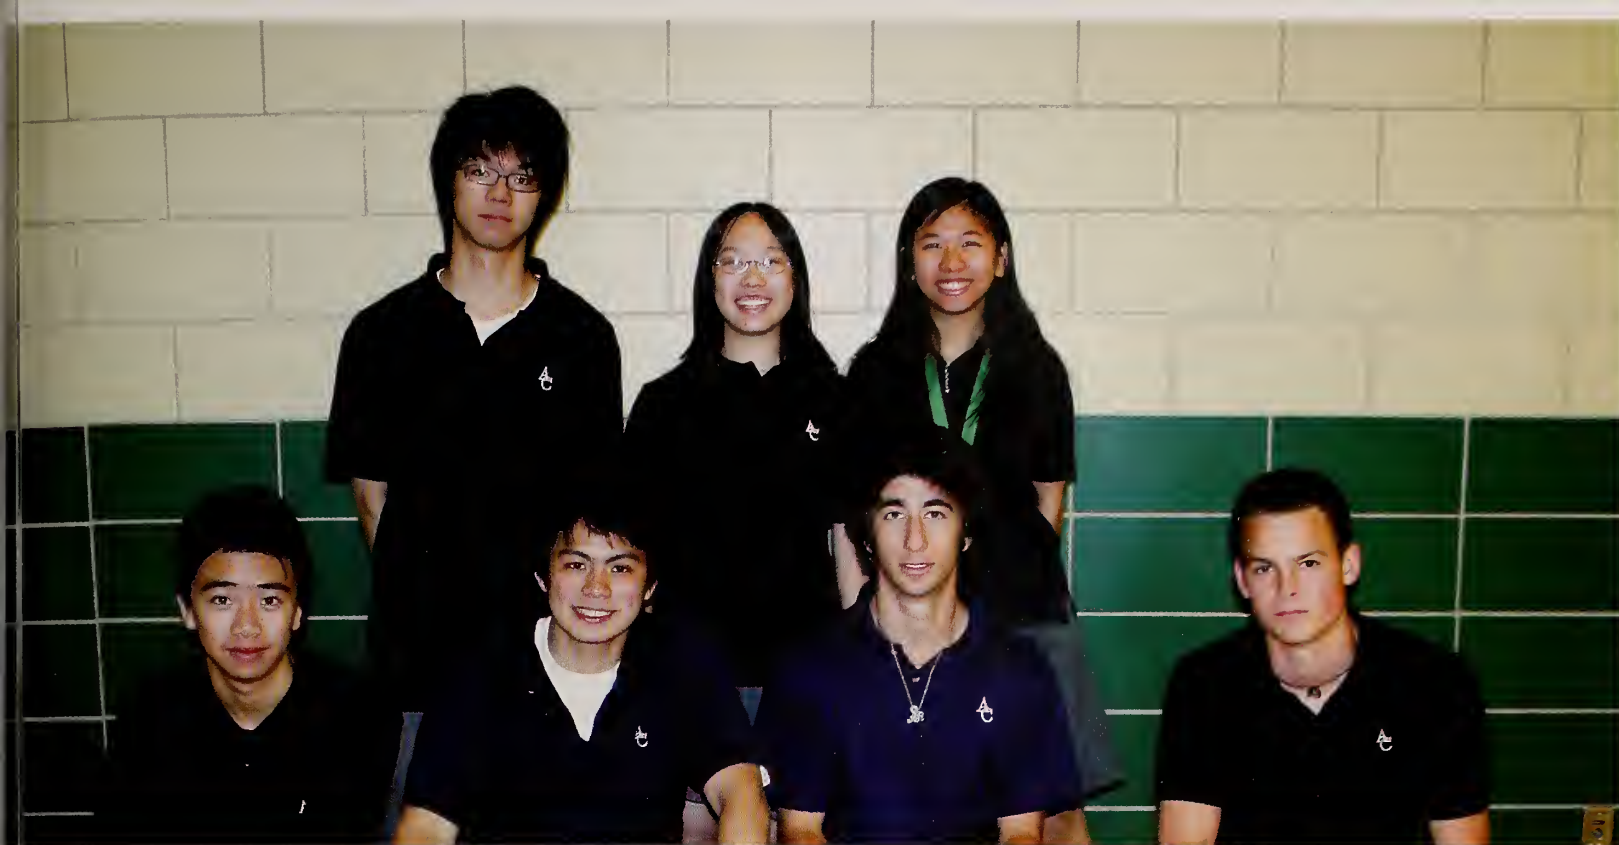

GIRLS' RUGBY

It is difficult to determine when this year's rugby season actually began. The first step was the 17th for an unforgettable rugby team that inspired us all to take things to the next level. The season began with some rain, an arbitrary period in time when rain came down hard that was more than rain gave. Following this we packed it up for a road trip to the East Coast where we competed against a CAA's champions for the 1st year. With this again this season the exhibition games helped to strengthen our team chemistry. Thank you to our extraordinary coaches Ross, Timmy, and the staff who have worked hard and helped us to do much more than just play. We can remember the total teamwork and the fun and is much more.

SENIOR GIRLS' SOCCER

The senior girls' soccer team, for the first time in February, history, was replaced by a Senior Girls' team that consisted of all types of players from sophomore grade girls to the senior girls' soccer team. We completed an undefeated record season and were awarded a local tournament trophy. A K & A Christian team. Despite our regular season we did not win our final game with an upset loss and were unable to attend the 2007 OHSAA meet. Regardless, we had an amazing year and finished our season with a trophy. The team would like to take the opportunity to thank Coach Legend, Mr. and Mrs. Wood for their support and for being a part of our team.

A group of students from Ashbury College, including the students in the photos above, are participating in a community service project. The students are working on a garden, planting flowers, and tending to the plants. The project is a way for the students to give back to the community and learn about gardening. The students are all smiling and looking at the camera, showing their pride in their work.

In Memory of
Mr. Bob Gray
1947 – 2007

Bob joined the Ashbury staff in 1974 sharing his love for sports until retiring in 2003. He remained an active part of the community through coaching and alumni events. A determined competitor with good humour and a twinkle in his eye, Bob made many lifelong friendships with his student athletes. He was a steady, motivating and supportive force in many people's lives.

Bob will be missed as a husband, father, uncle, friend, coach, teacher and colleague.

abound and new friendships are forged early in September when our grade seven classes head up to Camp Otterdale for three days of fun.

During camp the boys participate in numerous activities. These activities range from human bingo to prey/predator. Polar bear swims are offered in the early morning, followed by capture the flag, orienteering and habitat studies in the afternoon. At night the boys can try their hand at paper bag dramatics, sardines and leading songs around the campfire. By the end of the three day session the ice has been broken - the new boys and the old boys have become a united group.

I had no idea that you could learn fifty-six names in three days. Making up a skit with a hard hat, a scarf and morroccos as props was challenging but a lot of fun. It was an interesting start to the year.

or gloriously sunny, it doesn't seem to make a difference to our boys. Nothing seems to dampen our spirits when it comes to participating in good causes.

Despite the terrible weather this year students raised a record amount for the United Way Campaign.

Our younger boys had a wonderful fall day for the annual Ottawa Independent Schools' Pumpkin Run. They ran successfully in their separate age groups, reconnected with friends from across the city and were rewarded with a pumpkin for their efforts.

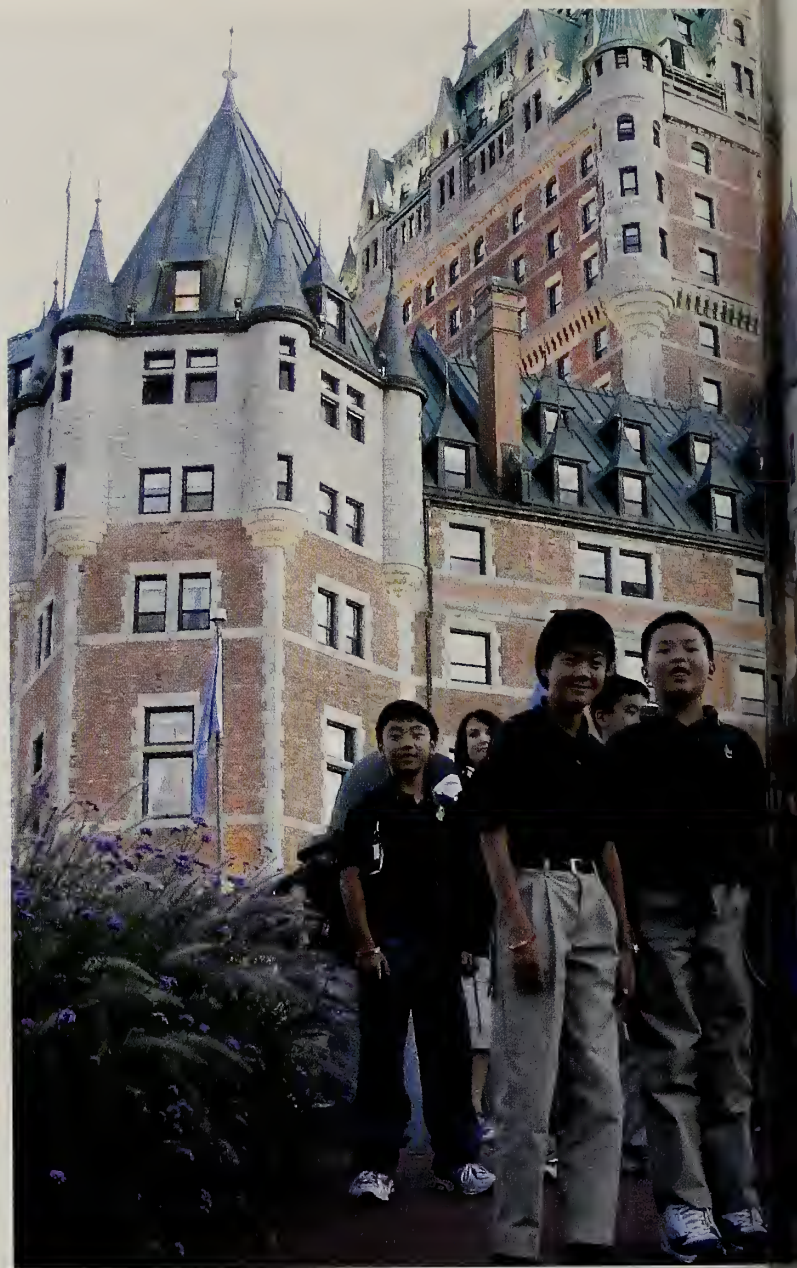

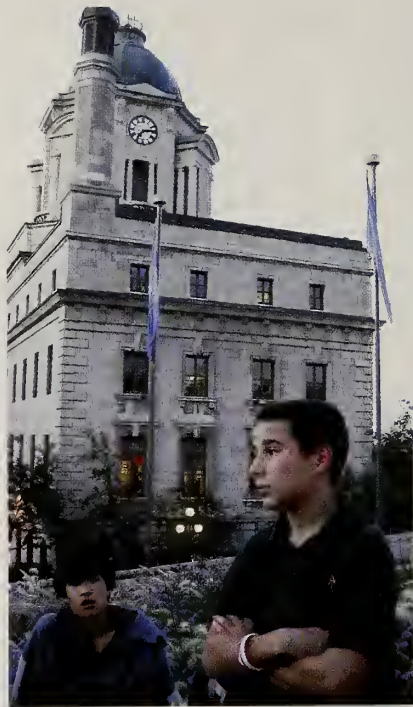

“ This was my first United Way Run and I was really pleased with my result. The route was long and wet. It felt strange because I was hot from running but at the same time I was freezing .

à Québec

C'est en compagnie d'un soleil radieux que nous avons entrepris notre voyage annuel à Québec. Nos troupes, qui pour la première fois étaient composées de l'ensemble des trois classes de 8^e année, ont profité de leur séjour pour enrichir leurs connaissances de la culture française. Ils ont beaucoup bavardé, visité, marché, rigolé, mangé. Ils ont eu peur également mais pas de leurs professeurs, rassurez-vous. C'est plutôt la tournée des lieux où rodent encore des fantômes qui leur a procuré des sueurs froides. Avec toutes les activités proposées, leurs journées étaient longues et leurs nuits plutôt courtes. Ils ont bien apprécié les grasses matinées à leur retour à la maison.

“ The trip to Quebec City was a lot of fun. I really enjoyed Quebec Experience where we watched the history of Quebec through 3D glasses. I also liked the ghost tour and the fabulous food.

is the start of the new year and a new house competition begins in earnest. Each October the Fall Olympics pits house against house in a variety of contests: indoor and outdoor soccer, tennis and ultimate frisbee.

This year the battle was particularly fierce but in the end the Wizards reigned supreme. Grandparents were also in attendance, enthusiastically cheering on their grandsons after they had spent a morning in the college as our special guests. This has become quite a tradition now and is a wonderful way to begin the Thanksgiving weekend.

The win was a great start for the Wizards, hopefully leading us to another house championship. Special thanks to Mr. MacKinnon, the house captains and all the eager participants for a well planned event.

The soccer program at Ashbury spans grades 4 through 8. Each grade participates in an exciting tournament, be it in the Thunderdome in Kanata, on the grounds of LCC, the fields at BCS or our own soccer pitch. This year our U-13's had to sit out the CAIS tournament. Instead, they headed to Niagra Falls and along the way, they played Ridley, Royal St. Georges and Country Day. They also hosted 3 teams from Vancouver who were on their way to Montreal. The U-14's had a successful season and won silver at the annual Bishop's Tournament. Thanks to the coaches, bus driver and the folks at Bar B Barn.

taking place every March and organized by the House Captains, otherwise known as the Winter Olympics, is the culmination of the second term's games' programme. The event runs for two days. Grades four, five and six play badminton, ice and floor hockey. Grades seven and eight vie for points while playing basketball, table tennis, badminton, ice and floor hockey. The Goblins emerged victorious this year, as the juniors swept their division and the senior Goblins tied with the Hobbits for first place. On these pages we see some of the highlights of the event. Special thanks to all of the teachers who helped referee and to the House Captains for their great teamwork.

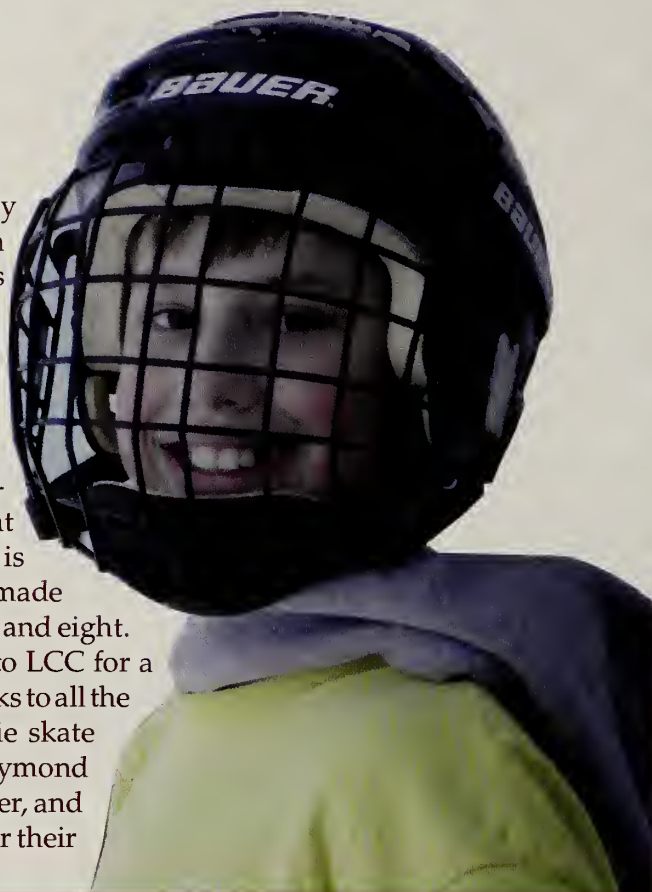

“It's called Winter Olympics but we don't really have any winter sports except for hockey. There is a lot of choice and people get to show their skills in different areas. The competition is great.”

Tim Lo

The best things about hockey are a fresh sheet of ice, a brilliant save, and les trois étoiles du match de ce soir. At Ashbury, grades four to eight participate in recreational hockey throughout the winter months. The season culminates in an exciting round robin tournament at the winter olympics. There is also an official Ashbury team made up of boys from grades seven and eight. This year the team traveled to LCC for a successful tournament. Thanks to all the parents who came to help tie skate laces, Mr. Valentine, aka Raymond Duval of La Presse Newspaper, and coaches King and Storosko for their dedication.

trips to the Laurentians and to Toronto are a part of our busy winter term. Each January grade seven students travel north to St. Donat and our grade fives head south to our provincial capital.

While in St. Donat the students go sledding, snow shoeing, and skiing and participate in a variety of activities, indoor and out, all the while honing their ability to converse in la belle langue. The Toronto trip provides our boys with their first opportunity to experience billeting with other schools. They have a busy time as they head off to the ROM, debate in the Legislative Assembly, cheer on their favourite knight at Medieval Times and take in the OSC.

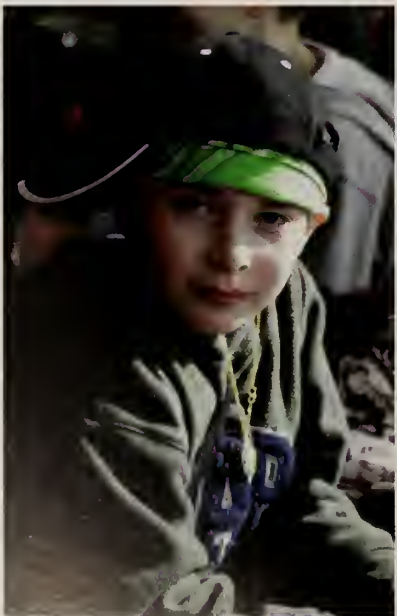

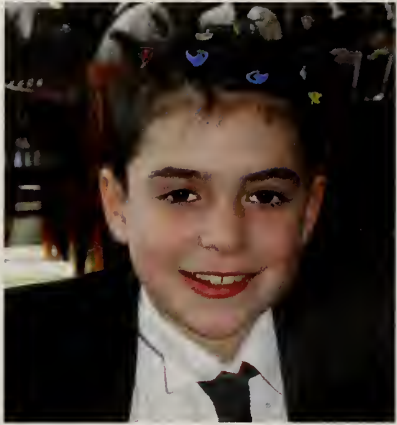

“The trip to St. Donat was a great experience. Downhill skiing at Mount Garceau was probably the best skiing I’ve ever done. We met lots of other students. My French really did improve.”

and hijinks were the order of the first Spirit Week, superbly organized by the house captains. Throughout the week, students had the opportunity to come to school in a variety of guises and to take part in some very exciting activities and creative house competitions. Seen on this page are students with crazy hairdos and gansta garb. There were also some wonderful teacher impersonations; Mr. Montgomery seemed to be a particular favourite. Mr. Storoko came dressed as himself to compete in the teacher tricycle race. (He lost.) Quid-ditch, snow soccer, sledding and Winter Activity Day filled the rest of this wacky, wild week.

I thought this was a very successful week and lots of fun to organize. We thought up the events and the students voted on the ones they liked best. My favourite was Gansta Day as you can see below.

The basketball season at Ashbury is always a busy one with many highlights. The Under 12 team competed in tournaments in Montreal and Toronto. The Under 13 team had an incredible experience traveling to the CAIS tournament in Surrey, BC and placing 7th out of 16 teams. Ashbury is looking forward to hosting this tournament next year. This year, at the Tom Street Invitational Under 14 Tournament, one of Ashbury's four teams won gold. Over 40 of our boys participated! The Under 14 team remained undefeated in the OISAA league's regular season. Thanks to Coaches MacKinnon, Street, Pottinger and Penton for their passion and dedication to the sport.

The highlight of our basketball season was going to Vancouver and reaching our goal of finishing in the top eight. Competing against more teams boosted our confidence and skill level.

accountable, adaptable, decisive, dependable, empathetic, enthusiastic, inspirational, motivated, organized, respectful, responsible, and self-confident. These are just a few of the traits we help to foster through LEED.

Now in its fourth year, the program is flourishing. Our house captains have assumed a much larger role in the life of the Junior School and the community. The trips up to ISES in Ladysmith, Quebec, remain a highlight no matter what the weather, as our chilly house captains can attest after their night of winter camping. Through their many varied experiences, students in all grades gain a tremendous understanding of their roles as stewards of the planet.

I started going up to LEED in grade four. I really enjoyed snowshoeing, dog sledding and breaking beaver dams. From these activities I have learned that my actions can affect my environment.

A Recipe for Art

Take two cups of creativity,
One million ideas,
Half a cup of texture,
And blend them together until your mixture is fluffy.
Throw in a pound of chopped labour,
And sprinkle on some imagination.
Let it sit in an art room for three days.
You have yourself a piece of art.

A Recipe for a Classroom

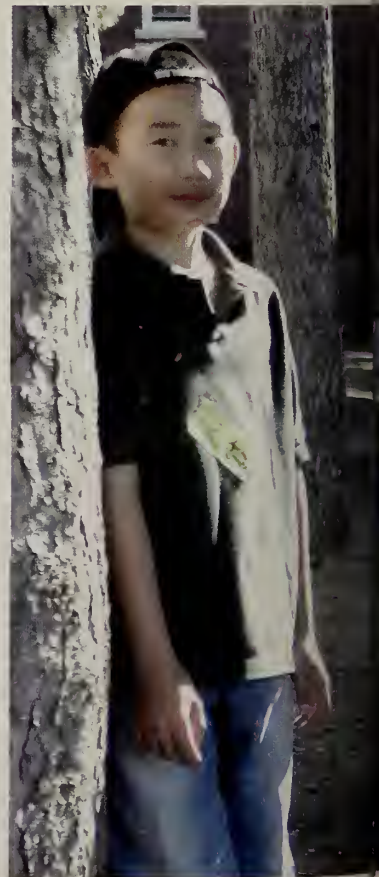

Add 20 bored students
 Add 21 scratched desks
 Add another 21 chairs
 And mix in a single frustrated teacher

Finally, add one class clown
 Stir very well until the students and the teacher are mixed together nicely
 This should take a very long time - be patient
 Now add a world map or a globe
 Topped off with a couple of pointless textbooks lying around
 Mix very slowly for about 30 seconds
 Insert 10 lost or "stolen" pencils
 And one nail-engraved chalkboard
 Beat everything together for 3-4 minutes
 Place it into a pan
 Cook it in the oven
 Take it out to cool
 Let the classroom settle for 20 minutes
 And voila! You have just made a classroom events kept us very busy this year. For the first time, the Junior School participated in International Day activities. Under the auspices of Mme Perrault the boys were encouraged to come to school in their traditional vestments. Many brought pictures, facts and food to share with their friends. Games and quizzes helped us to appreciate the wide diversity of languages and cultures which exist within our community. We were dazzled by the beautifully crafted lanterns generously loaned to us for the day by the Chinese Embassy. Earth Day also happens in April and this year we were involved once again in a major spring cleanup in the Rockcliffe area. The younger students decorated cloth shopping bags reminding us to stay green.

Earth Day provides a great opportunity for students to help the community. I think it teaches us to be more careful with what we may think is just a little bit of garbage because it's shocking to see how all the little bits add up.

Constantine Valettas

In the Junior School, there is ample opportunity for the students' voices to be heard. There is a broad spectrum of communication available - make your point in debating, inform or entertain us in the Public Speaking Competitions, recite your favourite verse in the Poetry or Shakespeare Reading Competitions, serenade us for a good cause in Ashbury Idol, dress up to interview a Viking, or don a toga to take part in Greek Day. All participants enjoy taking the stage and gain valuable experience in the art of communication.

Starting from the top: Greek masks, a laurel-clad James Nadoll and the grade six class in full Viking regalia getting ready to interview Norse gods and goddesses.

Seen in uniform on these pages are the 2007 Public Speaking finalists. Winners of the pod in order were K. Fung Kee Fung, J. Kamel and A. La Morre. Senior winners in order were A. Abdulla, S. Roberts and E. Fitzgerald. Also appearing here are more toga clad grade sevens celebrating Greek Day.

is a cautionary tale, written by former Ashbury teacher, David Polk, and it was performed for a second season by the Junior School.

The setting is "... somewhere amongst the mesons, gluons, and so-ons..." It was in "a time with no past, no present and no presents..." Canadian history, it seems, has disappeared; only the recovery of important Canadian artifacts can bring it back. Ably acted by a wonderful cast and chorus, the students put on three performances for their delighted audiences. Directed by Mr. Alex Menzies, aided by a great technical crew of Junior School boys, Mrs. Arbuckle's fabulous sets, and Ms Lobb's incredible behind the scenes leadership, the play was an outstanding success.

This year's performance turned out much better than I expected, and the updates Mr. Polk made to the script helped a great deal for the entire cast and crew. The teachers were both a pleasure to work with and to make fun of!

mountaineers populated the 84 Gym for one week in the spring term. After a serious session on safety, the boys were free to try to scale the walls and climb the ropes in their best imitation of Spiderman. New this year was the introduction of the rope ladder. Mastering this station turned out to be much trickier than it looked.

Before the fields are completely dry and ready for rugby, other sports are made available. Cycling in grades seven and eight is a very popular option, as long as it doesn't snow too much. Golf, cricket and racquet sports are also offered. The podsters take swimming lessons. An exciting interhouse competition caps off the season.

Rock climbing was a lot of fun this year. It was interesting seeing the grade fours, like Marcus, who climbed the ladder upside down! The walls were straight instead of slanted like last year which was much harder.

Michael Henley

Rugby is, as they say, a game played by gentlemen and boys who show tremendous perseverance and strength of character. This year thirty-three boys in grades seven and eight, coached by our winningest coach, Ms Jen Boyd, and her assistant, Hutchy, had another incredibly successful season. Both teams traveled to the Mentor College Tournament and the U-14 team won gold. They were also undefeated within their age group throughout the spring. The U-13's played two games against Lindsay Place School and in the end emerged victorious. House rugby is always a fiercely contested event and this year was no exception. Thanks to Coach Boyd's great enthusiasm, obsession and leadership, rugby has dominated spring sports for eight years.

I'm a Little Full Tonight

I'm feeling a little full tonight.
I couldn't eat another bite.
I couldn't eat a half a bean,
or even taste a tangerine.
I couldn't eat a lettuce leaf,
or bite the slightest bit of beef.
I couldn't polish off a pea.
or sip a single drop of tea,
or nibble on a nanogram
of pickled ham or candied yam
or lamb or clam or jam or Spam.
Yes, that's how full I truly am.
To think of eating more would leave me lying on the floor.
And surely make my stomach hurt.
Unless, of course, you've got dessert.

A Day in the War

There was a little boy, no older than eight
With only a shovel and one copper plate
His family was poor. Poorer than the poorest
They lived by the city in a small forest
One day in the war they heard a loud boom
And three more explosions that shook up the room
They fled from the forest so full of fright
Then one big explosion that lit up the night
He swore he could feel it, it felt like a graze
But all of his family got caught in the blaze
He walked far from the city now all alone
Without food to eat he was just skin and bone
He got to a town really half dead
He sold his own jacket to sleep on a bed
He woke up in the morning too tired to go
His legs felt like lead down to his big toe
Later that evening he looked for a job
When he couldn't find one he went home to sob
He continued his journey the following day
The village he found was right next to a bay
And as the war ended he waited there still
In a small house on top of a hill
If you got to that village and I don't know how
In that small house you'll still find him now

Le loup est un animal de mystère;
On le pense très solitaire
Mais il est un animal
Très sociale
Il parle à la lune, sous sa lumière
Et regarde son reflet dans les rivières
Il joue avec d'autres loups
Et il veut jouer avec nous
Mais, on ne peut pas jouer,

Ni s'amuser,
Car nous en avons trop peur.
Quand nous le voyons, on veut aller ailleurs.
Pourquoi avons-nous peur des loups?
C'est une question pour vous!

Music remains one of the most popular and most inclusive programmes at Ashbury. Students start in grade four learning the violin and progress to band instruments in grade five. By grade six many boys are already part of the concert band or jazz band. This year, the addition of a string ensemble added to the programme's diversity. Mr. Merritt ensures there are many opportunities to perform throughout the year: house music, the Christmas concert, Kiwaniis Festival, the Spring concert, and the closing ceremonies. Our bands earned gold at the Kiwaniis Festival, as did many of our students. The school chorus, under the direction of Mr. Menzies, was also active at Christmas and in the Artifacts play.

Departing thoughts.....

I recall with utmost clarity my initial visit to Ashbury College twenty years ago. I was here for an interview with Roy Napier and it was then I experienced my first impressions of the Junior School. As I was being shown about, I thought to myself, "These would be a terrific bunch of people to work with. The children want to be here and it is the relationships among the staff and theirs with the children that make it so." This impression has stayed with me and I can say with absolute conviction that my colleagues and the students here remain the best group of people I have ever had the privilege of working with. Ashbury was my fourth and final stop on a professional journey that began at Kings College School in Windsor, Nova Scotia in 1969. That I have chosen to remain in the Junior School much longer than I had planned is indicative that the attraction of the Junior School has endured. In my final year, I am constantly caught between feelings that I must be mad to leave and those that look forward to the adventure ahead.

Since I was four years old, being in school has been my full time occupation. By the time this yearbook will be distributed, I will be pursuing studies in areas that I have never had the time to explore and I look forward to keeping the treasured relationships I made during my tenure at Ashbury College. So for now just a huge thank you and my very best wishes.

Exams are finished, the books have been returned, classes are over for the year and Track Day has arrived once again. This is the ultimate house competition and the winner of the Pittfield Shield is decided on this day. All students participate for house points in track and field events. The meet starts with the Honour Board Run, a ten minute endurance race. This year's champions collected the most points in their individual events. Vaughan Rawes took the Atom Division, Nick Newport and Andrew Abou-Assaly tied for the Midget Division, Caleb Mousseau won the Junior Division and Tony Haddad won the Senior Division.

HPV vaccine

University and college campuses - even in small towns like Hanna, Alberta - are embracing wireless technology. But at Lakehead University in Thunder Bay, ON, administrators decided against installing wireless Internet citing health and safety concerns. Lakehead is believed to be the only major educational institution in Canada to have taken such a strong step against the technology.

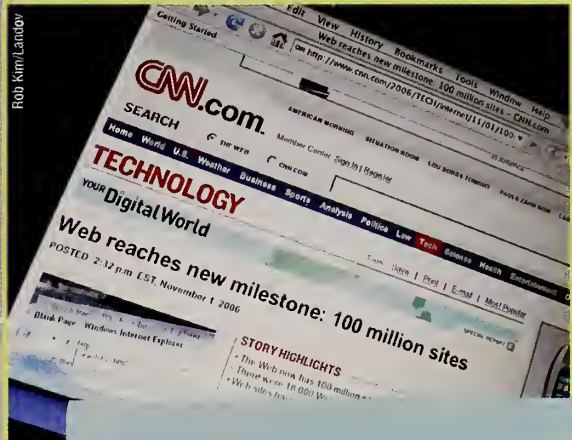

Health Canada approved a vaccine to prevent cervical cancer and other diseases caused by the human papilloma virus (HPV). This year in Canada, nearly 1,400 new cases of cervical cancer are expected and approximately 390 women will die from the disease.
